Princess Meg Reprimanded By Queen Liz

London, March 28 (UP). — An obviously troubled Princess Margaret flew to Germany today amid indications that her tea time date with Peter Townsend had brought a royal reprimand from Queen Elizabeth.

Margaret did not see her sister, who returned this morning from a state visit to Holland. But there were strong indications that Elizabeth spoke to her by ship-to-shore telephone before Margaret left to visit British troops in Germany.

Circles close to the Queen indicated clearly she considered the meeting between Margaret and Townsend which received front page play in British newspapers had interfered with the success of the three day state visit to Holland.

The correspondent for the Daily Herald quoted court officials as saying Margaret showed "indifference to her sister's position," and that Elizabeth "has been acutely embarrassed by a situation created while her back was turned."

Townsend visited Margaret at her Clarence House residence here Wednesday for nearly three hours. It was their first meeting in the three years since the Princess renounced her love because of religious reasons. Townsend, a pilot hero of the battle of Britain, is divorced.

Margaret left for her flight to Germany just about the time the Queen was stopping ashore from the royal yacht, Britannia, at Dover. The Queen and Prince Philip were all smiles.

But Margaret glared at the crowd of newsmen and photographers outside Clarence House when she left for the airport.

She still was glum-looking when she arrived at the Hamburg airport. She smiled briefly at the welcoming delegation and waved half-heartedly to a crowd of 1,000 cheering Germans before driving to Luenburg.

Proposes a Way to Curb 'Influence'

WASHINGTON (UP) — Two House Republicans today proposed ways to prevent future attempts to influence government regulatory agencies.

Rep. Charles A. Wolverton (N. J.), senior Republican on a House subcommittee investigating the Federal Communications Commission, recommended that the government increase expense allowances for all officials and forbid them to accept any outside payments of their bills.

Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich.) proposed that regulatory agencies be required to make decisions swiftly and thus forestall "the pressures" which he said result from long delays.

Wolverton and Bennett spoke out as the subcommittee tried to complete questioning of FCC member Rosel H. Hyde on the commission's controversial decision in Miami's TV Channel 10 case.

Hyde brought to today's hearing the 22-volume official FCC file on the Channel 10 case. He said legal requirements in a contested case "inevitably" result in collecting a huge mass of documents and testimony with resultant delay.

Hyde said Congress should remove some of these requirements. He said the six-foot pile of volumes in the Channel 10 case contain 5,385 pages of testimony, about 5,000 exhibits, and 85 depositions.

Subcommittee Chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark.) called Hyde's statement "a revelation" of the vast amount of commission work required.

Herman Edward Burns Dies at Booneville

Herman Edward Burns, age 32, died in the State Sanatorium at Booneville early today. He is survived by a brother, George Burns of Eldorado and two sisters, Mrs. Marie Womack of Strawn, Arkansas and Mrs. Opal Black of Florio.

Funeral services will be Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. at Apex Hope Church with interment in New Hope Cemetery. Burial services will be at the funeral home in Florio.

Weather

ARKANSAS — Showers and thunderstorms with high winds tomorrow night; cloudy, cooler.

PROTECTING THE SERGEANTS—The Army is now issuing raincoats to its new sergeants—the 45-foot Sergeant missiles. The raincoats, like the one being fitted above at St. Paul, Minn., are polyvinyl chloride covering to protect the missiles against all weather conditions until they are ready to fire. The 50-pound coat can be removed from the missile in firing position in less than 45 seconds.

CHICKEN DINNER, ANYONE?—Yes, that's chicken in the tube—semi-liquidized chicken. The high-altitude-eating food container, revealed for the first time by Dr. Roger H. Lueck, above, vice president of the American Can Company, is being developed for liquid-type foods for use by pilots flying at very high altitudes. Dr. Lueck explains that face masks on pressure suits limit food intake to products that can be taken through plastic straws. But pressure differences inside and outside the suit make sucking through a straw at high altitudes impossible, so a container (in this case a collapsible metal tube) that can be squeezed by hand to force the food through the straw is necessary.

Christianity Centers Faith Around Easter

By the Rev. Dr. Walter Harrison
Written for the United Press

Christian faith is faith in the Resurrection. On Easter morning we celebrate an awesome and glorious mystery, but it is a mystery which is central to the Christian faith.

In I Corinthians 15 the apostle Paul shows just how significant the Resurrection of Jesus Christ is for the Christian. He begins by insisting that Christ's Resurrection is not a theory which he invented. It is an essential part of the Christian story which he had received. If he is to tell the story of God's saving deeds among men and nations, victory over sin and death. For this is of first importance.

Why is it so important? Not merely because it is a part of the tradition, Paul uses great freedom in dealing with the record of Jesus' life and work.

It is important, first of all, because it actually happened. Paul does not try to prove that it happened; he knows that it would be possible. Even if it were possible, proof of the Resurrection is less important than an understanding of its consequences. But Paul has no shadow of doubt that it did happen.

God Was Not Defeated

God was not defeated on Calvary. The powers of sin and death were defeated. Out of death life has come. A new age has dawned; The age of God's kingdom rule among men and nations. Eyes of faith are needed to mark the character of this new age, but in faith its reality can not be denied. It is simply true that God has brought newness of life, meaning and power, joy, peace and blessedness to all mankind.

Yet Paul is not content to stop here. Christ's Resurrection said for all men still die. They die, just as all men did, so also shall all be made alive. The rule of sin and death has been taken away, yet all men still die. They die, however, in a new situation. They will be raised. They will be raised. They will be raised.

Gov. Williams May Testify in Kohler Case

By DICK WEST
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther said today he is certain that Michigan Gov. G. Merion Williams would be willing to testify before the Senate Rackets Committee about a controversial extradition case.

Reuther told Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), a committee member, that he has no intention of asking Williams to extradite John Gunaca, a union member wanted in Wisconsin on assault charges.

He said the governor "is competent to speak for himself" and "if you want him to come down here and defend his position, I'm sure he will respond."

Gunaca, now a Detroit bartender, has been indicted in Sheboygan, Wis., on charges of beating two non-strikers during the UAW's strike against the Kohler Co.

Williams has refused to extradite Gunaca on grounds the union member might not get a fair trial in the strike-torn community. Gunaca told the committee earlier this month he would return to Wisconsin voluntarily if his trial were moved to Milwaukee or some other city.

Reuther, spending his second long series of questions by Goldwater about various acts of violence during the bitter 4-year-old strike.

The UAW chief charged that the Kohler Co. was "morally responsible" for such incidents because it was "operating outside the law" by trying to break the union.

But he also said some of the union officials, including UAW Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey, were in denouncing non-strikers as "traitors," "the enemy," and "betrayers."

Storm Warning Steering Group to Make Plans

Victor Cobb, director of the Hempstead County Storm Warning Network today announced that he will have a steering committee to set up plans for the storm warning system.

The committee consists of Cobb as chairman, Mayor George Frazier, County Judge U. C. Garrett, Lt. Harold Fortenberry, Arkansas State Police, Garland Medders, City Manager L. B. Tooley, KXAR, City Police Chief Jack Brown, Fire Chief A. S. Willis, Chamber of Commerce Manager B. N. Holt, Sheriff Jimmie Cook, Vance Smiley, Southwestern Bell Telephone, and Paul Jones, Hope Star.

Cobb has called for a meeting of this group at 10 a. m. Monday at the Hope Chamber of Commerce Office. He said that the policy on storm warnings and the procedure for warning would be officially set up by this group at the Monday meeting and that the storm warning network could then start functioning within a few days.

Cobb reported that the response by volunteer spotters and citizens as well as public officials had been gratifying and the object now is to start the alarm system functioning as quickly as possible since the storm season is already at hand.

Warm Front Moves Across Arkansas

By UNITED PRESS

A warm front moving across Arkansas was expected to bring scattered showers and thunderstorms in the west portion late tonight and spread them over the state Saturday.

The forecast said also it would be warmer tonight and Sunday would be partly cloudy with occasional showers.

Highs this afternoon will be in the mid 50's to mid 60's, lows tonight 40 to 50, and highs Saturday in mid 50's to mid 60's.

The high in Arkansas Thursday was 62 at Camden, Fort Smith, Hot Springs, Ozark and Texarkana. The low today was 20 at Gilbert.

The extended forecast Friday through next Wednesday said temperatures will average three to six degrees below the normal minimum of 68 and the normal minimum of 47. It will be a little warmer Friday night and cooler again next Monday. Precipitation for the period will be generally heavy with showers through the week-end.

Ground fog shrouded most of the state early today, but it had vanished by mid-morning. At 11 a. m., skies were clear at Walnut Ridge, cloudy at Fort Smith, and partly cloudy elsewhere in Arkansas and at Memphis, Flippin had 53 degrees, Fayetteville 53, Little Rock, Fort Smith and Pine Bluff 56, and Texarkana and El Dorado 60.

Air Force Delays Another Launching

Technical difficulties forced the Air Force today to postpone an attempted launching of its intercontinental Atlas missile.

There was no word as to just what the trouble was. The Atlas, a 5,500-mile range sky giant, was within 10 minutes of blasting off its launching pad when the difficulty was discovered.

Before the postponement was announced there was a long hold in the countdown which up until then had proceeded without a hitch for some 12 hours.

Six Atlases had been fired previously. The last five have blown up in the sky after their engines burned out.

Union Head Says Solons' Conduct A 'Disgrace'

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Walter P. Reuther of the United Auto Workers UAW charged today that Republicans on the Senate Rackets Committee are turning his investigation of the Kohler strike into a "political campaign."

As he returned for a third day of questioning Reuther told newsmen the GOP senators' conduct was a "disgrace."

He said it was "a lot of nonsense" to tie up a group of senators on the four-year-old Kohler strike "at a time when America has very real problems."

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said he called the unusual Saturday session in hopes the committee might finish with the Kohler strike today. The committee is scheduled to turn to the 1955 Perfect Circle strike Monday if the Kohler investigation is wound up in time.

Congressional Democrats launched an effort to develop a program for helping the unemployed broader than the one proposed by President Eisenhower. Chairman Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.) of the House Ways & Means Committee urged critics of the administration plan to draft a proposal of their own for submission when the committee meets after the Easter recess.

Little Doubt Ike to Veto Freeze Bill

By BERNARD BRENNER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower will veto the bill providing a one-year freeze on farm price supports and make no accompanying concessions to farm bloc pressure in doing so, informed sources said today.

Unless there is an 11th-hour change of heart in the White House, Eisenhower will reject the bill and allow the 1958 support rates fixed by Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson to stand unchanged, these sources said.

Administration sources had been predicting confidently there would be a veto ever since Congress began debating the measure several weeks ago. But there had been continuing speculation that Eisenhower might follow a veto—as he did in 1956—by administrative action to increase some support rates.

The bill, if it were signed into law by the President, would freeze all 1958 farm price supports and 1959 planting allotments at not less than 1957 levels. This would reverse support cuts ordered by Benson for nine farm commodities including dairy products.

The bill, if it were signed into law, would freeze the support rates for wheat, rice, beans, and several feed grains. The measure would also prevent 1959 acreage cuts for cotton and rice.

Forty-two of the Senate's 49 Democrats, in a last-ditch effort to head off a veto, asked Eisenhower late Thursday to sign the freeze.

The Democratic senators signed and sent to the White House a resolution sponsored by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson. It called the freeze "a ray of simple justice" and "an against increasing unemployment."

The move came just two days after Republican senators, after heated argument, voted 17 to 14 to ask the President to approve the freeze. Fifteen GOP senators were not present for that vote.

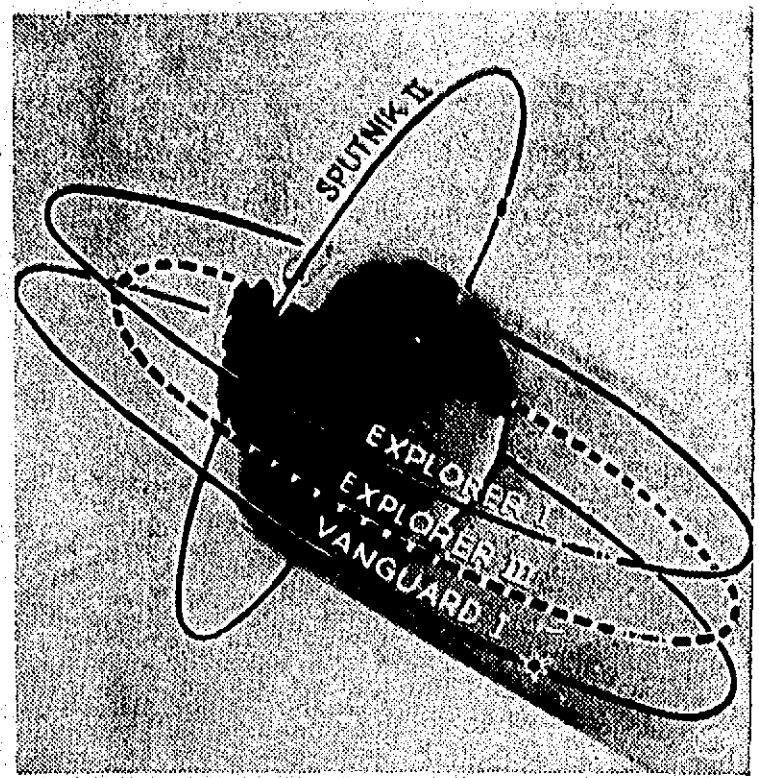

Speculation that the administration might be planning some price boosting on its own to conciliate farmers and farm-bloc republicans was heightened by delay in announcing the 1958 support rate for corn.

Top Agriculture Department officials conceded the corn rate, when it is announced, may be a little higher than they had originally planned.

But this will be "a matter of two or three cents at most" due to an increase in corn acreage in the surplus-reducing soil bank this year, one source said. The 1958 rate, in spite of this change, is still likely to be below the 1957 prop of $1.40 per bushel, the official predicted.

High School Class of 1928 Plans Reunion Here April 5

By Mary Anita Laseter

Senior Day for the Hope High Class of '28 was held on April 1st, so it is very fitting that the 30 Year Reunion of that class will be on April 5th.

Former classmates who now live in Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, Michigan, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas are planning to attend a Smorgasbord at the Hotel Barlow and an Open House at the Hope Country Club.

This was the first class to wear caps and gowns at a Hope High School graduation exercise, and the Class of '28 was also first to have "sheep skins" instead of rolled diplomas. Gray was the color for the graduation attire and the diplomas.

Under the leadership of Coach Charles Wilkins (now a Gulf Oil distributor in Brinkley) the Bobcats of the '27-'28 season resumed football games with Prescott after a lapse of several years.

Other teachers of this class of 67 students were: Mrs. John Vesey, Miss Elizabeth Harrison (Mrs. R. M. McKinney of Little Rock), Miss Elizabeth Osborn (Mrs. O. T. Conner, deceased), Miss Carolyn Clark (Mrs. J. C. Beckey) Chicago, Mrs. Irma Dean (deceased), and Miss Mary Greening (now of Houston, Texas).

School officials were: Superintendent, D. L. Paisley (deceased), Principal, Miss Beryl Henry, and President of the School Board, Dr. Don Smith. Miss Henry, who now lives in Benton, will act as Mistress of Ceremonies at the Itinerary Banquet. Strange as it may seem, the three classmates named Jones (Lena, Mildred, and Raymond) were not kin to each other. Only two graduates are now Mr. and Mrs. Cora Turner and Sam Taylor and they were not high school sweethearts. There were a number of brothers and sisters in the class, but none were twins.

The Class of '28 had the American Beauty Rose for its official flower, and Pink and Silver were the class colors. Nineteen members of this group still make their home in Hope. Five classmates — Cecil Boswell, Craydon Griffin, Joe Houston, McRae Stroud, and John Sidney Waddle — are deceased.

When the class elected officers, the following were chosen: President — Ansel McIntosh (now of San Pedro, Calif.), Vice-President — Helen McFadden (now of Washington, D. C.), Secretary-Treasurer — Aura Waltrip (Mrs. Donald Knight, of DeQueen), Business Manager — Sam Taylor (now of San Antonio, Tex.).

The Baccalaureate Ceremony was held in the Saenger Theater with Dr. W. R. Anderson (deceased) of the Presbyterian Church bringing the sermon. A local attorney, E. F. McFadden (now State Supreme Court Judge), delivered the Commencement Address in the Hope City Hall.

Class speakers at the Commencement Exercises were: Valedictorian — Virginia Berry (Mrs. F. G. Sullivan of Melton, Va.), Salutatorian — Judy O'Neal (Mrs. E. W. Edwards), Historian — Wilma Jacks (Mrs. Warren Bayne of Dallas, Tex.), Prophet — Jeannette Hooper (Mrs. Jeannette Bair of Cupertino, Calif.).

Possibly the most widely known member of the class, has been Ruby Blevins who went into show business and used Patsy Montana for her stage name. Today, in private life she is Mrs. Paul Rose of Manhattan, Calif.

Many fields of work, from homemaking to government service, have been chosen as careers by the members of this class. But wherever they go and whatever they do their Class Motto is their permanent goal.

"And departing, leave behind footprints in the sands of time."

Rayburn, who owns a polished hereford herd, flew back to Washington after the talk.

Attack on City Manager to Be Investigated

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The foreman of the Pulaski County grand jury conferred with the jury's enforcement committee today to decide if it would investigate the slugging Wednesday of City Manager Dean L. Dauley.

Dauley received a bloody nose in an encounter with two men who accused him of instigating a search of their amusement firm for possible evidence of gambling. Charged in municipal court with assault and battery, the men were Cecil B. Hill, owner of the Hill Amusement Co., and Harold F. Dunaway.

Little Rock detectives searched the Hill company and found no evidence of gambling. The two men went to the city hall, called Dauley out of a conference with city officials, and punched him in the nose.

Their trials have been set for next Thursday. Meanwhile, Otto A. Cook, foreman of the grand jury, said he would confer today with the jury's law enforcement committee and prosecuting attorney J. Frank Holt. He said, however, he would not decide today if an investigation would be made.

Cook said he was not certain if the grand jury could take any action, since Hill and Dunaway already were charged in municipal court. He said, however, that if it was the "general consensus" of the committee, the grand jury "stood ready" to investigate any matter brought before it.

Holt described the attack on the city manager as a "shame and a disgrace," but would not say what action the grand jury could take under the law.

"This office will do all that it can in working with city officials and the grand jury to suppress violations," Holt said.

The city manager board issued a statement Thursday that it had instructed Dauley to enforce the laws and to cooperate with the grand jury.

Commissioner Is Proud of His Record

WASHINGTON (UP) — FCC Commissioner Robert T. Barley told House investigators Friday it was legal and "entirely appropriate" that the broadcasting industry paid part of his expenses when he traveled to their conventions.

Barley, a nephew of Speaker Sam Rayburn, said he was "proud" of his record as a commissioner and believed it would stand the "closest scrutiny."

Appearing before the House subcommittee on legislative oversight, he freely testified that he allowed broadcasters to give him some expense money for official trips to conventions and other functions.

But he said he regarded such payments as "a form of humanitarianism" permitted FCC commissioners under the law. On each occasion, he said he either took part in panel discussions or made speeches.

As a matter of fact, he testified, "I lose money nearly every time I go on a trip." He said the government allowance of $12 a day was generally insufficient to cover his expenses.

Meantime, Public Service Television, Inc., winner of an FCC award of TV Channel 10 in Miami, Fla., urged the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to refuse to turn the case back to the FCC for reconsideration.

The FCC has asked that the controversial case be sent back. Appeals against the commission's ruling and handling of the case are pending before the court.

Benefits Will Not Help All Unemployed

WASHINGTON (UP) — Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell conceded today there are 1,400,000 jobless workers who would get no help from President Eisenhower's proposed extension of unemployment benefits.

He said he personally is not ready to recommend any action on their behalf. He declined to say specifically that the administration had no plans in this field.

As the president's plan came under critical scrutiny by the House Ways and Means Committee, Mitchell assailed Democratic unemployment relief plans as "discriminatory." He called for quick enactment of the President's proposal as the best way to provide fast help in an urgent situation.

As Mitchell outlined it, the President's plan would extend existing unemployment benefits for a period equal to one-half that to which the jobless workers previously entitled. Many of the unemployed already have exhausted their original benefits.

Democrats in Congress have proposed various alternatives, including one plan to extend all jobless payments by 10 weeks and another to overhaul the whole unemployment payment system.

Key Democrats said Congress may provide a far broader program of federal relief payments than those recommended by the President. But some Democrats from hard-hit areas began to worry that Congress may do nothing at all because the bill might get bottled up in the Senate.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.) of the Ways and Means Committee said the group also will consider proposals to provide some kind of payments for workers not covered by unemployment compensation.

New Rule Adopted at Central High

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The Little Rock Board of Education adopted a new rule Thursday night requiring students at Central High summer school to recommendations from their principals.

The policy was recommended by Central Principal Jess Matthews. Under the new ruling, students with records and questionable behavior and attendance will not be admitted.

Death and Its Relation to Easter

Holy Week — Fifth of Six

By Father Richard Ginder, S.T.L.
Written for the United Press

In some circles it is considered almost bad taste to raise the subject of death in any but a joking way. As if to offer comfort to a doomed people, one thinks of the lines penned by Britain's tragic young Rupert Brooke:

"Mid youth and son, feasting and carnival,
"Through laughter, through the roses, as of old,
"Comes death, on shadowy and relentless feet,
"Death, Unappassable by prayer or gold;
"Death is the end, the end,
"Proud, then, clear-eyed and laughing, go to greet
"Death, as a friend!"

But why greet a killer as a friend? If the only role of death is to throttle life, to put an end to the laughter, what's so friendly about it?—or why should we survey the situation "proud, clear-eyed, and laughing?"

We Need Faith
Without a faith of some sort, without a belief in the good God and an afterlife, we would probably give in to despair. We are not poets or philosophers, most of us. We're just plain, ordinary people, trying to take life in stride, to clear each hurdle as it comes our way. And then every once in a while we lose someone who is dear to us.

It is the fact of Good Friday and Easter that gives us the answer to the riddle stumping those who have no faith.

Taken as we are today, we are in a pitiable plight. We're something like angels inhabiting the bodies of animals. We have a strange dignity of our own. We think and imagine, and remember. We laugh and cry. We listen to great music and sit in attendance on stories of comedy and tragedy. Then after such sublime and dignified occupations, we get hungry and, somewhat like the animals, we must eat in order to live.

Now here is where Good Friday comes in: Jesus Christ, Our Lord and God, the second person of the Blessed Trinity, loves us so much that He took a human body just like our, and just like ours, his body had its limitations. Jesus used to get hungry and thirsty. He used to get tired out. And finally He died.

Overcomes Temptations
Had sin any power over Jesus? Himself to be tempted — and, definitely not. But He did allow course. He overcame those temptations. We believe, too, that the —that is, Jesus made a free offering of Himself as a victim for on earth was caused by our sins. He permitted sin to vent the full force of its fury on his innocent person, even to the exacting of that traditional wage or penalty of sin—the separation of soul and body in death.

But however dark our Good Friday may be, we know that in a few hours we shall have the risen Christ—the exemplar, the pattern of what we too shall one day be if we keep faith with Him. Christ conquered sin — so shall we. And although we too shall have our Good Friday, when our soul shall be separated from our body, another day will see the reunion of that soul and body, as with Christ, on Easter.

In other words, since the resurrection of our Lord, no follower of Christ need fear death.

FIRST SETTLERS
New Hampshire first was settled in 1623 just three years after the landing of the Pilgrims. The settlement was made at Oriome's Point now the town of Rye.

on speaking of the Resurrection of the body, not the immortality of the soul. It is much easier to make sense of eternal life if we think of the body as no more than a shell, a container of the real self — the soul.

Bible Speaks Differently
This is not the way the Bible speaks. For the Bible, the "soul" is the whole self, not some inner, real self only incidentally related to the body. Just as man's redemption from sin involves total change in his person, so also his Resurrection must be a Resurrection of the self and hence, bodily Resurrection.

How can we make sense of this view of Resurrection? Perhaps the only thing to say is that we can not make full sense of it. But we can and must say that the issue it raises is decisive for the Christian. The issue is simply stated: Does God triumph fully over sin and death, or does He not? Precisely how God triumphs we can not know and do not need to know. Paul speaks of a spiritual body which is raised at the last day. Behind this speaking is his unshakable faith in the victory decisively won by God in Jesus Christ, a victory which is to have its full display and away in God's own time.

Tax Reduction Proposal May Change a Bit

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—If there is any policy coordination at all within the Republican Party, the administration's tax reduction proposals will follow very closely the pattern of a bill already introduced in the House of Representatives.

That is a big "if." So it could be that the administration proposals will be quite different from the tax bill now awaiting House Ways and Means Committee consideration.

The bill was introduced a fortnight ago by Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.). Simpson is the No. 3 Republican on the committee. That ranking does no justice to Simpson's standing in the House as a legislator nor to his standing in the Republican Party as a conservative expert on taxation.

Cut Excise Tax
President Eisenhower must look to Simpson as the most effective Republican spokesman in Congress on fiscal affairs of government. That is what makes the Simpson tax reduction bill important and that is why it might be expected that the administration will be guided by its pattern in proposing any tax reductions.

Simpson filed his bill the "Tax Reduction Incentives Act of 1958." It would, for example, cut in half the 10 per cent excise tax on automobiles. This would obtain an instant reduction of from 7% to 15% in the cost of new cars. The bill also would abolish the tax on movement of freight, and reduce the tax on railroad passengers.

Lower Surtax Rate
Here's Simpson's description of his tax program to save the taxpayers an estimated $6,400,000.

"Reduce across the board individual income taxes by 10 per cent; reduce the corporate normal tax from 30 per cent to 28 per cent so that he combined corporate normal tax and surtax would be 56 per cent; reduce to 5 per cent the manufacturers excise taxes applicable to automobiles and parts; radio and television sets and components, self-contained air-conditioning units, phonographs and records; repeal the federal excise tax on transportation of property; reduce to 5 per cent the excises applicable to transportation of persons and applicable to communications; and with respect to both individual and corporate income taxes the alternative capital gains tax (would) be reduced from 25 per cent to a proposed level of 12½ per cent."

In addition to the 10 per cent across-the-board cut in individual income taxation, Simpson would reduce the top individual surtax rate to 70.2 per cent.

People Must Spend
"This tax saving," Simpson said of his bill, "is soundly and equitably distributed among individual and corporate taxpayers and American consumers."

He said he was not proposing a politically inspired "depression tax reduction."

"I am not a person of so little faith in the vitality of our free enterprise system as to believe that better gimmicks or hastily conceived so-called panaceas should be the order of the day," Simpson added.

"I am convinced that America's most promising enterprise for job opportunities is private enterprise rather than government enterprise."

Count Simpson, then, with Vice President Richard Nixon in believing that the people and not the government should spend the way out of recession.

Seven Persons Perish in New York Fire

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UP)—Seven persons, six of them of Puerto Rican extraction, died of smoke poisoning today as fire spread from the front porch through a multiple-dwelling frame building.

Firemen said the front of the 2½-story dwelling was completely engulfed when they reached the scene.

The dead, all of whom were asphyxiated by the dense smoke, included three children ranging from 2 to 5 years.

A mother and her two children were among the victims. All except one, the building janitor, were found in the debris of the top floor.

The victims were: Mercedes Pino Garcia, 20; Wanda Pino, 2; her daughter, Juan Contrado Pino, 3; her son, Julian Colon, 29; Luis Feliciano Orango, 5; Aide Phagan Orango, 21; and Harold Talford, 62, the janitor.

Authorities said the flames, cause of which was under investigation, spread rapidly after starting on the front porch. Several residents leaped to safety from the second floor as the flames and smoke climbed upward.

Three persons, including a 20-month-old baby, were hospitalized with serious injuries.

INVENTED ENGRAVING
Printers and engravers honor the memory of Jacob Perkins because he was the inventor of steel engravings and thus the father of U. S. stamps and currency.

Dallas designers give the waistline a break in these pretty and lightly fitted fashions. Easy fit is well-handled in this suit (left) by Devine of Dallas. Jacket combines box pleats at back for coon look. Waistband has buttoned tabs for accent. Fabric is dacron and cotton shantung. The cocktail dress is a beauty (center) as done by Clifton Wilhite in an all-silk warp-print taffeta. This fitted sheath is cut low in the back where roses, bow and streamers combine to catch the eye. Suit with boxy jacket (right) by Donovan-Galvani is in dark cotton faille. It has its own sleeveless white pique blouse.

IT'S A CORVETTE — This is all that is left of a stolen $5,500, 1958 Chevrolet sports car. Patrolman Frank Antonio Jr., of Denver, Colo., holding the steering wheel, and his brother, Ralph, left, worked together in solving the car theft. Ralph is manager of a Denver car dealer's sports car department. They tracked down two local youths who admitted the theft. The youths took the engine out of the car and placed it in a 1926 Model-T in the hopes of making a hot rod. But they were arrested before they could test-run their creation. Detectives recovered more than 1,000 pieces of the car.

Husband's Still Unsure About Wanting Marriage

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband and I separated several months ago when he admitted he was interested in another girl. I took our small daughter with me, opened a telephone service I could handle from my home, and have been fairly satisfied. Suddenly my husband reappears and we start dating. I thought the reconciliation was clear; then he suddenly began to act strangely, just as he did before announcing his love for the other woman. He insisted he loved me dearly, but could forget all about me for two or three days at a time. I love him and wonder if it would be wise to push the thought of reconciliation with him. With a little encouragement, I think he'd go along with the idea. — Ginger

Dear Ginger: You will certainly prove you have an optimistic nature if you go back to a husband who can't make up his mind whether he wants to be married or single. Certainly there can be no happiness for a woman in one of these off-again-on-again, gone-again marriages. All you'd get out of the deal is security and apparently you're doing all right on your own. Perhaps several months hasn't been time enough for your man to grow up. Let him stew a bit longer. A woman can never put her whole trust in a husband who has wandered once, at best your marriage would be a thing of uncertainty — for you. To give yourself some margin of assurance, however, wait until your loving spouse comes across with a few promises of reform. Have him thoroughly awake to the responsibility of marriage and fatherhood then talk reconciliation.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My fiancé keeps putting off our wedding date because he claims he can't leave his parents. His mother tells me she'd be very happy to see him married and settled. Which one should I believe? — Janice

Dear Janice: Keep your eyes, ears and mind open to clues. My family needs me as an excuse as old as time to keep a young man from taking the fatal step when he's a bit hesitant. They do like a steady date (which is cheaper than playing the field), but they don't like to be tied down. Hence, the "family" is the scapegoat. Do a lot of considering before going on with your reluctant suitor.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Timmie and I have been engaged for a year. He's cute and everything I ever dreamed of, but he doesn't have much time for me. He visits twice COLD COP IN COLD WAR—Built by West Berlin children, this snowman represents an icy-faced customs officer checking motorists crossing the border into Communist East Berlin. The word "Zoll" around the figure's neck means "customs." The German sign reads: "Attention! You leave West Berlin in 70 meters." In right background, within the Eastern Sector, is the Brandenburg Gate.

Starts Sunday at Saenger

The two boys with the "choppers" are Baby Face Nelson, as played by Mickey Rooney, and John Dillinger, portrayed by Leo Gordon. The scene is that of a stickup from the exciting film, "Baby Face Nelson," a United Artists release, opening Sunday at the Saenger theater.

This picture re-creates many scenes in front of the Marlowe actual gangster incidents and the names who made headlines. "Baby Face" was a dangerous punk, machine-gun killer who lived a bloody, running life as Public Enemy Number One for 128 days until he was wounded by the FBI and killed by his girl-friend, Mickey Rooney, of a similar size as Nelson, stars in the little role and lovely Carolyn Jones, the slim, star of "The Bachelor Party," plays his "wife."

The famous Dillinger death scene in the picture was re-created for the film. Director Don Siegel cast actors in bit parts who looked as much as possible like their counterparts.

And the "Little Bohemia" lodge on the shores of Lake Erie in Wisconsin, where "Baby Face" Nelson, Dillinger, John Hamilton and 13 desperadoes escaped an FBI trap was re-created for the film. Director Don Siegel cast actors in bit parts who looked as much as possible like their counterparts.

"Fire Down Below" Scorching Romance With Rita Hayworth

Rita Hayworth, Robert Milthum and Jack Lemmon star in the Cinemascope production, "Fire Down Below," which starts Tuesday at the Saenger Theater. Rita Hayworth returns to the screen in Columbia Pictures' "Fire Down Below" as an exile who can't find a country to throw her out — and a man to pick her up. In "Fire Down Below," there are two men, her co-stars Robert Milthum and Jack Lemmon. The drama starts Tuesday at the Saenger theater in Cinemascope, wears in one torrid beach scene.

When to Fish as Hunt
SOLUNAR TABLES
by John Alden Knight

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times. If you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter.
The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Thought for the day

Usually the greatest boasters are the smallest workers. The deceit gives them a larger tribute to the sea than shallow brooks, and yet empty themselves with less noise — W. Secker said it.

"MADE MEDICINE" is given the credit of opposing General Cas-

Actually Crazy Horse was the Sioux leader in that battle and Sitting Bull acted only as the holy man who "made medicine."

NOTHING TO IT—Warren Spahn of Milwaukee will be 37 in April, but he won 21 games last season with this smooth, power-based form. And baseball people see no reason why he shouldn't be a big winner again this year. With Spahn every pitch comes out of this high-kicking windup, overhead delivery and smooth follow-through. For his career, he's won 224 games.

OUTDOORS with John Alden Knight

Back in the summer of 1937, I had an idea. This brain wave was so completely radical and foreign to the thinking of that day that I hesitated to launch it, full-blown without some preliminary ground work. So I talked to a member of the board of trustees of one of our large universities.

He listened to me, smiled, and shook his head. "You'll have a big job on your hands, Jack, selling that one. However, I'll give you a letter to the dean. Then you are on your own." He gave me the letter. I journeyed across half the State of New Jersey, and explained my idea to the dean. He all but threw me out of his office.

While that was a profound setback, the idea still seemed to be good. Accordingly, I managed to obtain an interview with the Secretary of Columbia University.
He wanted to talk to Nicholas Murray Butler, then President of Columbia, but he was not available.

The Secretary smiled tolerantly regarding me, as though I were a retarded child in the fourth grade. "I'll be glad to talk to him about it," he said, "but I hold out little hope. After all, a lecture course in fishing in Columbia? He shook his head once more and I went home.

Of course, Butler turned down the idea forthwith. Then he made a mistake — he told the story, as a joke, to his friend, the late Dr. Samuel Lambert.

Dr. Sam, bless his heart, was an ardent fisherman, having one of the finest private collections of angling literature. He didn't laugh at Butler's story.

"That," he said, "is one of the soundest ideas for the widening of a university's curriculum that I have heard for a long time. How long," he asked his surprised friend,
"has it been since you played tennis, football, baseball?"

"Haven't thought of those games for years," replied Butler. "Football! At my age?"

"Exactly," said Dr. Sam. "Contact sports are useful only to the young. You teach them all at Columbia. But what about the years after a man has passed 30?
What does he do with his off time?
Do you teach him how to employ his leisure hours in healthful outdoor relaxation? No indeed, you are turning out unfinished products with lopsided training."

"But who is this young man?
He is trained to conduct a University lecture course?"

"He's a member of the Anglers' Club of New York, of which I am a member. If he's smart enough to come up with such a novel idea, surely he is competent to carry it through. I urge you, quite strongly to sign him up before some other university grabs him."

So that was how it started. For two winters I had the pleasure of conducting a lecture course at Columbia University. It was scheduled under the grandiose title
"The Theory and Technique of Fresh Water Angling." Of course, the newspapers had a lot of fun with the thing. Columnists kidded us and cartoonists lampooned Nicholas Murray Butler and yours

THE MAIN LINE

Here are two tracks, — two roads, — two ways to go. From this point, apparently, both lines lead to coveted destinations. True, they point in different directions and their terminals are drastically different. The Great Teacher once warned, "There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the ends thereof are the ways of death." Brother, you can't reach Heaven going in opposite directions. You've got to get on the main line and keep on going if you expect to enter by the narrow gate. We can move to the right or to the left — to life eternal or to certain death... which way will ye take? Your church offers valuable help in determining the main line. For he said, "The path of the just is as a drawing light that shineth more and more into the perfect day."
